Cookies

If you leave a comment on our site you may opt-in to saving your name, email address and website in cookies. These are for your convenience so that you do not have to fill in your details again when you leave another comment. These cookies will last for one year.

If you have an account and you log in to this site, we will set a temporary cookie to determine if your browser accepts cookies. This cookie contains no personal data and is discarded when you close your browser.

When you log in, we will also set up several cookies to save your login information and your screen display choices. Login cookies last for two days, and screen options cookies last for a year. If you select "Remember Me", your login will persist for two weeks. If you log out of your account, the login cookies will be removed.

If you edit or publish an article, an additional cookie will be saved in your browser. This cookie includes no personal data and simply indicates the post ID of the article you just edited. It expires after 1 day.

Embedded content from other websites

Articles on this site may include embedded content (e.g. videos, images, articles, etc.). Embedded content from other websites behaves in the exact same way as if the visitor has visited the other website.

These websites may collect data about you, use cookies, embed additional third-party tracking, and monitor your interaction with that embedded content, including tracing your interaction with the embedded content if you have an account and are logged in to that website.

6. Using Personal Data

We may use your personal information to:

1. Enable your use of any services that we may provide

2. Supply you with our products and services.

iii. Send statements, invoices and payment reminders to you, your lawyers who you use for conveyancing, or to collect payments from you.

1. Send you our latest properties
2. Deal with enquiries and complaints.
3. Perform money laundering, financial and credit checks.

vii. Use tracing services to obtain onward contact details and collect any unpaid debts for any default by you.

viii. Ensure appropriate access to systems and applications.

1. Comply with our legal and regulatory obligations.
2. Fraud Prevention Agencies (FPAs)

We may need to confirm your identity before we provide products or services to you or your business. Once you have become a customer of ours, we will also share your personal information as needed to help detect fraud and money-laundering risks. We use Fraud Prevention Agencies to help us with this.

Both we and fraud prevention agencies can only use your personal information if we have a proper reason to do so. It must be needed for either of us to obey the law, or for a 'legitimate interest'.

7. Disclosing Personal Data

We only disclose your personal data in the ways set out in this Privacy Policy or subject to any agreements in place between us. The following circumstances may apply:

1. Across our business and brand, as part of a need to know or as part of improving our existing products and services or as part of providing new services.
2. To third parties who process personal data on our behalf.

iii. To third parties' who process personal data on their own behalf but provide us, or you, with a service on behalf of us.

1. To third parties' with whom information is shared for anti-money laundering checks, credit risk reduction, debt collection and other fraud and crime prevention purposes.
2. To any regulator, external auditor or applicable body or court where we are required to do so by law or regulation or as part of any investigation.
3. To any central or local government department and other statutory or public bodies, such as HMRC.

vii. If the law or a public authority says we must share the personal data;

viii. If we need to share personal data in order to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights (this includes providing personal data to others for the purposes of preventing fraud or reducing credit risk);

We do not sell, rent or trade any of your personal data.

We will not, without your consent, disclose or supply your personal data to any third party for the purpose of their or any other third party's direct marketing.

8. Retaining Personal Data

The following criteria are used to determine data retention periods for your personal data (whether or not you become a customer):

Retention in case of queries – we will retain your personal data as long as necessary to deal with your queries (e.g. if your potential transaction is unsuccessful);

Retention in case of claims – we will retain your personal data for as long as you might legally bring claims against us; and

Retention in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements – we will retain your personal data after your contract or service with us has come to an end based on legal and regulatory requirements.

If you leave a comment on our website, the comment and its metadata are retained indefinitely. This is so we can recognize and approve any follow-up comments automatically instead of holding them in a moderation queue.

For users that register on our website (if any), we also store the personal information they provide in their user profile. All users can see, edit, or delete their personal information at any time (except they cannot change their username). Website administrators can also see and edit that information.

9. Securing Personal Data

Where Abidins Ltd acts as the controller of personal data, it will ensure that necessary and adequate safeguards (e.g. passwords) are in place to prevent unauthorised access, loss, misuse or alteration of your personal data.

Where data is stored electronically we store all personal information with password protection.

Where data is stored on paper or forms all personal data is locked away when not in use, and disposed of securely after use either using document shredders or third-party disposal organisations who have been contracted to dispose of documents appropriately.

Any personal data sent to us, either in writing or email, may be insecure in transit and we cannot guarantee its delivery.

10. Sharing Personal Data

To provide the services to you we may share the personal data that you supply with third parties:

1. Creditsafe who are used to undertake anti-money laundering checks, Politically Exposed Person (PEP) and sanctions checks.
2. Rent4sure who are used to undertake credit checks, referencing checks and right to rent checks

To protect your data Abidins Ltd agree contractual arrangements with these third-party data processors to ensure that your personal data is protected in compliance with this Privacy Policy and the data protection legislation that Abidins Ltd is required to comply with.

Unless otherwise defined under section 12 all personal data shared with third parties is stored and processed in the UK or EU.

11. Log Files and Statistics

Abidins Ltd may use IP addresses, URLs of requested resources, timestamps and HTTP user agents to administer the system, analyse trends and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use.

In addition to this we may use third party services to monitor your use of our website, including Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc ('Google'). This information allows us to track how many visitors we have, how often they visit and where they originated from. It also gives the ability to gather which terms were used when searching for properties.

12. Data Subject Rights

Your rights are as follows (noting that these rights don't apply in all circumstances):

The right to be informed about our processing of your personal data;

The right to have your personal data corrected if it's inaccurate and to have incomplete personal data completed;

The right to object to processing of personal data;

The right to restrict processing of your personal data;

The right to have your personal data erased (the "right to be forgotten");

The right to request access to your personal data and information about how we process it;

The right to move, copy or transfer your personal data ("data portability"); and

Rights in relation to automated decision making including profiling.

You have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office. It has enforcement powers and can investigate compliance with data protection law: www.ico.org.uk

For more details on all the above you can contact our DPO using the details in Section 19.

13. Updates / Amendments

To remain compliant with any legal and regulatory obligations, or as part of our evolving business practices, we may update this Privacy Policy from time to time by publishing a new version.

14. Consents (“Opt-in”)

Your personal data is provided for the purpose of selling or purchasing a property, letting or being a tenant of a property, conveyancing, financial services or surveying services as agreed under the terms of an Agreement we have agreed between you and us. Your use of our services, on line or in person and or your provision of information to us constitutes your acceptance of the terms of this Privacy Policy.

15. Withdrawal of Consent (“Opt-out”)

You have the right, at any time, to ask us not to process your personal data for marketing purposes and any additional services that you have consented to receive.

You can opt-out of receiving any of these services and communications simply by contacting us.

16. Data Protection Registration

We are registered as a data controller with the UK Information Commissioner's Office and our data protection registration number is ZA246171
